

Micro-Acceleration in association with BERKELEY

Outcomes -

Micro Acceleration programs associated with Berkeley can provide students with a range of valuable learning outcomes related to entrepreneurship, networking, innovation, and industry knowledge. These programs can be particularly valuable for students interested in pursuing careers in tech or starting their own businesses.

Syllabus covered:

- Demonstrate an understanding of settler-colonialism and decolonization;
- Demonstrate an understanding of how the history of race and colonization are interconnected with the law and their impacts on society today;
- Demonstrate an understanding of how race and colonization impact the narrative story of UC Berkeley;
- Demonstrate an understanding of the importance of resistance and truth, healing, reconciliation, and reparation movements, and decolonization; and
- Apply these learning objectives to research and create a storytelling project about the racial and colonial foundations of California and UC Berkeley with an eye toward decolonization. The projects should aim to challenge the settler-colonial narrative through storytelling and to move from theory into praxis.
