World Water Day

INTERNATIONAL WATER DAY is celebrated on 22nd March as a means of focusing attention on importance of water. To see how Haryana is managing the water crisis, students of MASS COMMUNICATION, SGT University along with experts from Department of Allied Health Sciences went to explore the situation of water in KHEDA JHANJHROLA village of Gurgaon District.

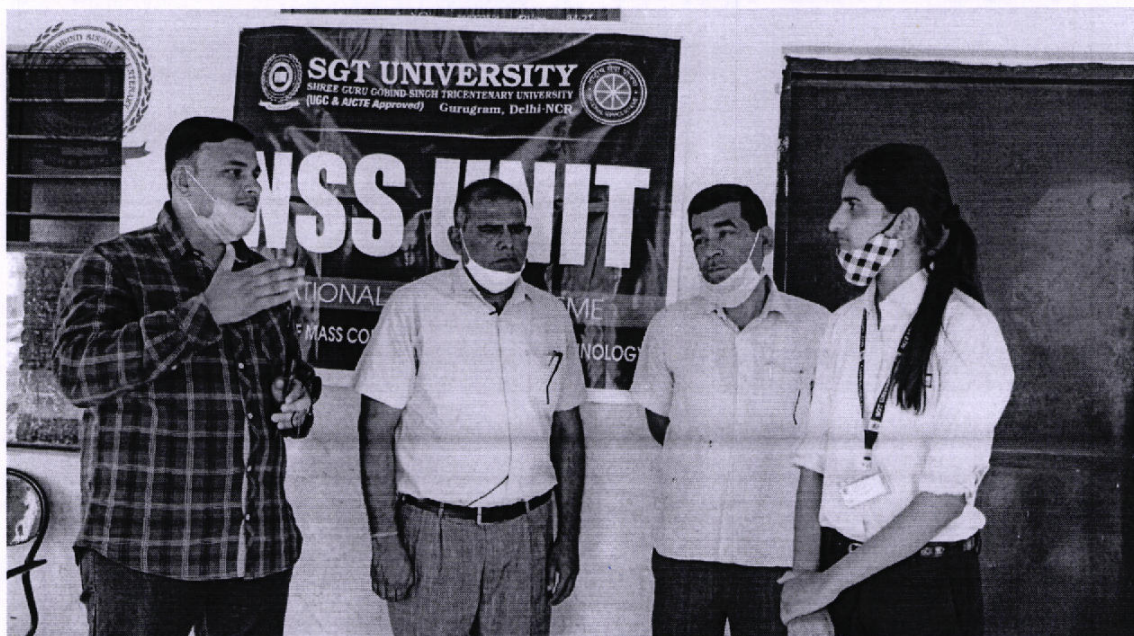

Here students met with residents; Mr. Dilip who is member of panchayat committee explained how villagers are struggling with poor availability of fresh water. He said that they don't have natural resources of water, only can rely on water supply by government which provides the water daily for one hour. As it is the day which is celebrated for the importance of water Mr. Dilip told how villagers are using the 3'R principal – Reduce, Reuse & Re-cycle. He said to reduce quantity of water they use; they do not use more than one bucket in bath. To 'reuse' the water they use the dirty water to irrigate the plants. To recycle the water, they have made small drains at the side of every street which is connected to a big drain and the treated water goes to a pond where they recycle the water and uses it in agriculture.

It was a ground reporting for students of journalism and as well as students of film making, who are also shot a documentary on this village.
