About the Speaker/Guest: Prof. (Dr) Azizuddin Khan

Audience: All students and faculty members

Brief Report:

Department of clinical psychology under the Faculty of Behavioural Sciences at SGT University conducted an expert lecture today on the topic “Future Trends in Psychology: An International Perspective”. To deliver this talk, we had with us Prof. (Dr) Azizuddin Khan who is a distinguished researcher from IIT Bombay, Mumbai. He is PhD in Psychology from the Indian Institute of Technology, Kanpur. He has worked as a Researcher at the Department of Psychology, University of Jyväskylä, Finland and as an Assistant Professor at T.A. Pai Management Institute, Manipal, Karnataka.

In today’s workshop, Dr. Khan shared his experiences and talked about how psychology is developing as a science and a profession in different countries and regions of the world. He also pointed out the growing popularity of psychology and the possibilities for psychologists that have arisen from its growing popularity, making psychology an interesting and exciting discipline. He talked about his project on dyslexia where people were taught to read with the help of vibrations. He also shared about another project where people could move a wheelchair through just a move using brain stimulations. He concluded by saying that the future of psychology, however, may depend on how well psychology maintains its scientific roots while meeting the needs of the public and adapting to a changing technological world. In the end, students actively participated in the question-answer session asking many questions about the future of Psychology. It was overall a very interactive and knowledgeable session.
