3.1.1: The Institution has a well-defined Research promotion policy and the same is uploaded on the Institutional website (500 Words)

Response:

Research Promotion Policy

Shree Guru Gobind Singh Tricentenary University (SGTU) has well-defined Research scholars and students. SGTU aims to create and support a research culture among its teachers, research scholars & students and leverage it to enrich and enhance the professional competence of the faculty members.

Budgetary Provisions for Research

The research promotion policy majorly focuses on giving financial & infrastructural support and research incentives to its faculty, students & scholars to widen the horizon of research, which also includes financial assistance for attending national/international research-related workshops, seminars, conferences, membership fees and research incentives to the eligible faculty members.

The University, in its budget, has provisions for 'Seed Money Projects (SYNERGY)', minor and major research projects, grants for participation in conferences, and incentives to the faculty members for research and publications in peer-reviewed journals.

The University provides Intramural grants to its teachers, students & scholars to support and give preference to new areas of indigenous research that enhances the University's capabilities in the field of research. The research promotion policy also has provisions for funding highly innovative small-to-medium-scale interdisciplinary research projects that show potential for future funding by granting bodies.

The University sanctions 'Academic/On-duty leave' for regular research-related activities.

Publicization, Implementation and Monitoring of Research Promotion Policy

Publicization:

The University publicizes the research promotion policy through its website and various notifications from time to time for its stakeholders.

Implementation:

Having been an excellent academic organization, there has been a paradigm shift to achieve excellence in research. As a measure to create a forum, to discuss emerging research trends in various domains of Health sciences, Engineering & other disciplines and to promote interdisciplinary research, many workshops/seminars/webinars are being held regularly.
