Brief Profile of Speaker: Dr Anil Kumar Yadav, Assistant Professor, Department of Physics, CCS University, Meerut, India

Organizers: SAVANT Association, Department of Physics

Report of the Expert Talk:

- a) Introduction: Continuous increasing demand of miniaturization devices as wearable and monitoring sensors will also increase demand of battery for powering these devices but use of such large amount of batteries will increase cost load as well as not good for environment. The alternate of powering these devices are nano generators which can convert ambient energy into useful electrical energy and give solution of the problems created by frequently replacement batteries.
- b) Objective: To motivate students about futuristic aspect of Nanogenerators
- c) Brief content of lecture-

Dr. Yadav discussed the importance of Nanogenerators and its application in energy conversion devices. He also discussed how the electrostatic charges created on the surfaces of two different materials during physical contact and separation in order to generate induced charges to harvest mechanical energy into electricity. More than 50 students and faculty members interacted with Dr. Yadav in this event and got interesting ideas.
